The sky looks so dark,
The river breaks their voice
Feels like I'm trapped in a cave
Where no light, no wind, no voice and no love
Suddenly the guild builds up
How can I be so cruel to my mother?
Who gave me water, light and protected
me with shelter
With all the green which make my eyes beautiful!
What else I need to live?
Dear men love your mother earth
Who gave you a chance to live your life!
In this tiny little space
(That's what our greed always says)
Once it's gone, our life is done
So save!
