Educational Outreach Activities Beyond Campus

Yenepoya (Deemed to be University) undertakes educational outreach beyond the campus through both systematically programmed and ad-hoc activities, demonstrating the breadth, continuity, and measurable reach of its community engagement.

During the reporting period, 48 programmed outreach activities were conducted around health and awareness themes aligned with national and international commemorative days, involving 63 students and 47 teachers and reaching 1,779 beneficiaries. These activities provide a structured and recurring mechanism for extending educational and health awareness to communities beyond the University.

In addition, 79 ad-hoc awareness and educational outreach activities were undertaken by various academic departments, centres, NSS units, and outreach initiatives, involving 2,879 students and 236 teachers and reaching 10,689 beneficiaries. These activities included awareness talks, demonstrations, screening and treatment camps, exhibitions, and other educational interventions conducted across schools, colleges, Anganwadi centres, government and residential institutions, workplaces, and community settings.

Together, the documented activities demonstrate substantial student and faculty participation, regular institutional outreach, diverse community settings, and measurable beneficiary engagement, providing clear evidence that educational outreach beyond the campus is an established and continuing institutional practice.
