Subject: Regarding participation in the Technical Advisory Group, USAID supported MUKTI project on TB-Nutrition

Dear Dr. Bhargava

USAID in collaboration with Child Fund (an international NGO), the Central TB Division, Ministry of Health of Family Welfare, and the state of Madhya Pradesh implements a project called 'Mukti' on TB-Nutrition in Dhar district of Madhya Pradesh. This is the first ever pay-for-performance model on TB-Nutrition, that will provide valuable insights for the National TB Elimination Program (NTEP).

The intervention is complemented with a strong impact and economic evaluation to assess its cost-effectiveness that will enable scale-up across states in the country. A Technical Advisory Group (TAG) consisting of experts in the field of TB, public health, nutrition, and economic evaluation, was constituted in August 2020, to guide the intervention, and the study.

Given your extensive expertise and experience in TB-Nutrition, we invited you to be the lead member of the TAG. We are thankful to you for your participation in all meetings held so far and the invaluable insights provided towards strengthening the data analysis plan and the project interventions.

We look forward to your continued support and guidance to the initiative until it's logical conclusion, as it has the potential to influence the TB-nutrition program of the country and save many lives.

Dear

Sub: Utilization of N-TB mobile application for implementation of Guidance document on nutritional care & support for patients with TB in India – Reg.

Gol is committed to ending TB by 2025, five years ahead of the Global Sustainable Development goals. In order to achieve this, it is important to address the social determinants of Health. Undernutrition is an established risk factor for progression of latent TB infection to active TB, increases the risk of severe disease, death, drug toxicity, drug malabsorption & relapse after cure and at the population level contributes to an estimated 55% of annual TB incidence in India. Moreover, TB leads to weight loss, wasting and worsening of nutritional status. Therefore, Undernutrition and tuberculosis (TB) have a bidirectional relationship.

Addressing undernutrition and providing nutritional support to households with TB patients would be key to achieving the Government of India's ambitious goal. In order to address this significant risk factor, the "Guidance document on nutritional care & support for patients with TB in India" was developed by Central TB Division and released on the occasion of World TB Day 2017.

In order to facilitate implementation of the technical aspects of the nutritional assessment and appropriate supplementation, the N-TB app has been developed by CTD with support of Center for Nutrition Studies, Yenepoya (Deemed to be University), WHO and McGill International TB centre. It is a tool for health care workers to calculate BMI of TB patients, know how to counsel patients and choose the food items as per their BMI to improve BMI while on treatment and later. It is available for download on Android devices - <https://play.google.com/store/apps/details?id=com.nexa.ntb> and iOS device (<https://itunes.apple.com/in/app/n-tb/id1402523153?mt=8>). The training materials which may be used for sensitizing the staff on this app are attached for reference.

You are requested to widely disseminate the information on this app and ensure that all the program staff install the application on their Android tablets and utilize the same in counselling of the patients.

Yours sincerely
