

CALL FOR APPLICATIONS FROM THE CENTER FOR NUTRITION STUDIES

YENEPOYA (Deemed to be University)

Mangalore, Karnataka. A 'NAAC Grade A' institution

Post: Research Assistant, RATIONS study

Educational qualifications: M.Sc. in Biostatistics from a recognized university/institution, MPH with skills in biostatistics.

Experience: Experience of working in a research project and publications in peer reviewed indexed journal desirable. Experience with design of data collection tools, including RedCap will be given preference.

Job description:

The RA will monitor the database of the RATIONS study which will consist of records of 2800 patients and their nearly 11,000 contacts which are being entered in RedCap software. The job will involve the following but not limited to:

1. Monitor processes of enrollment of patients and contacts on a regular basis.
2. Check for data quality with regard to missing data, outliers and getting them rectified.
3. Generate reports for monitoring of baseline, follow up, and measurement of outcomes.
4. Maintain database related to sub-studies related to the RATIONS study.
5. Address software related issues in coordination with the statistical team and developers at NIRT.
6. Prepare statistical reports for reporting to ICMR and for publications related to the study.
7. Capacity building of Field investigators and other members of the team in data entry, data quality check.
8. Provide statistical inputs for other research projects being conducted under Center for Nutrition Studies.

The RA will work as part of a technical team composed of 1 Project Director, 2 Project Consultant, 2 Data Entry Operators. The RA will report to the Principal Investigator and Co-PIs.

Location of posting: Ranchi, Jharkhand but field travel may be required occasionally.

Remuneration: INR 32,000 to 35,000 p.m. consolidated.

Application procedure: Interested candidates who have eligibility can apply for this job with a copy of their current CV to anurag.bhargava@yenepoya.edu.in by 9th October 2020.

A Google Meet Interview will be scheduled for the shortlisted candidates.